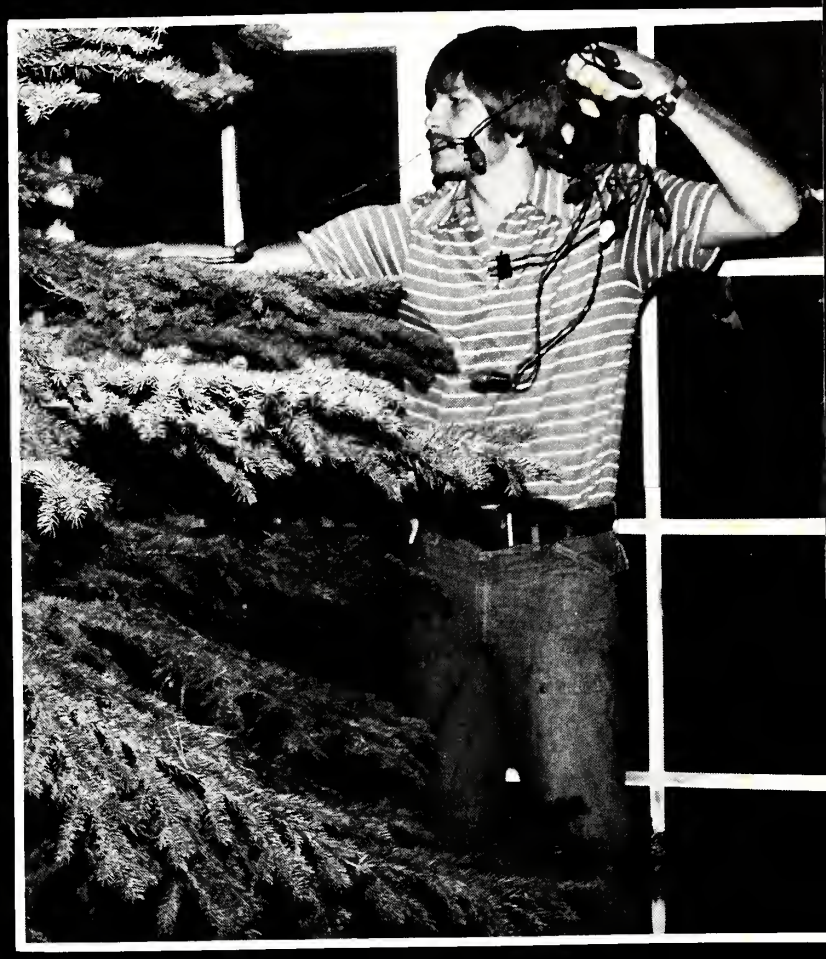
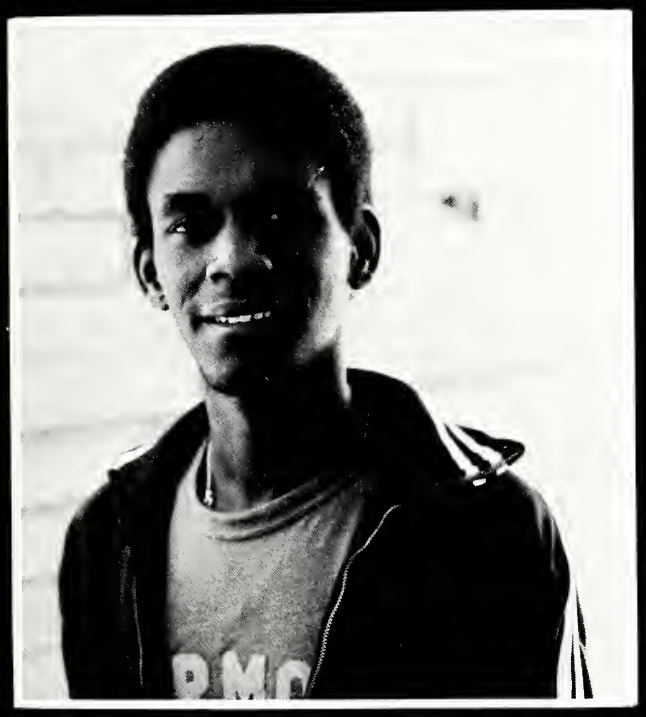
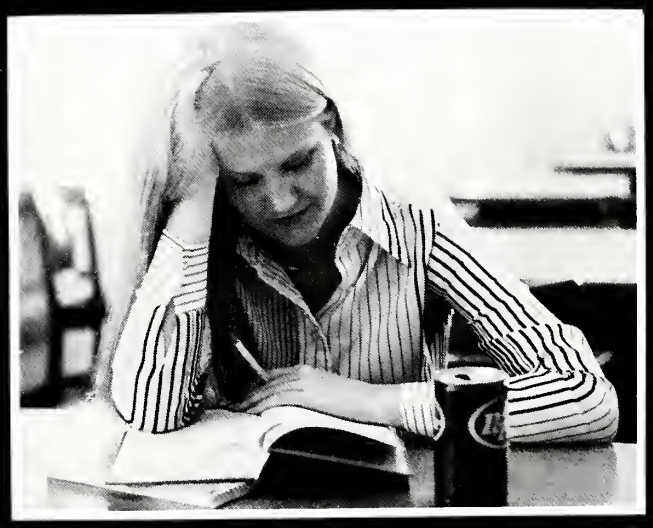
From Roswell, New Mexico...



and Lubbock...



and Rio de Janeiro...



and from Dallas...

From across the state and
around the world we came
Our paths merged for a time
As we shared the adventures of learning
growing living

The path is not all straight and narrow
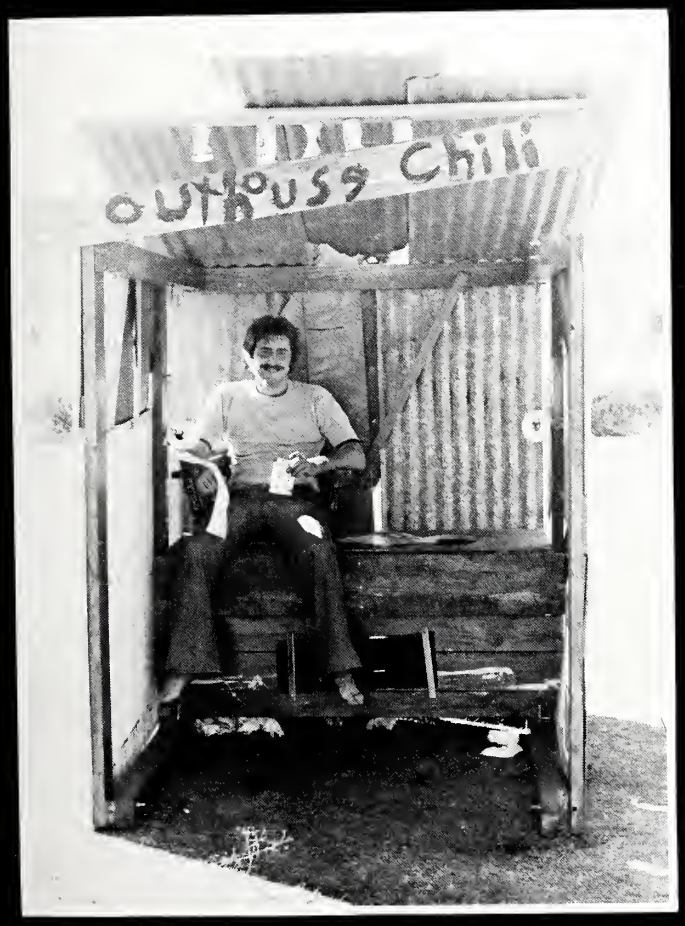
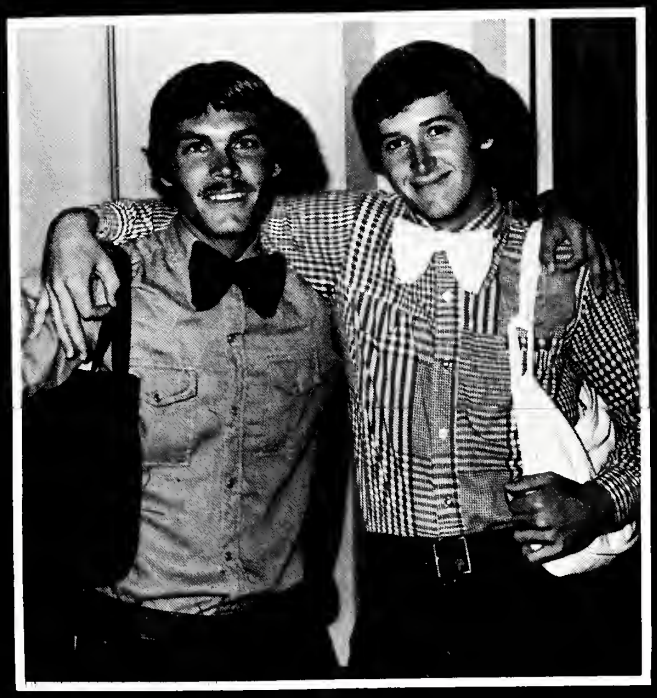
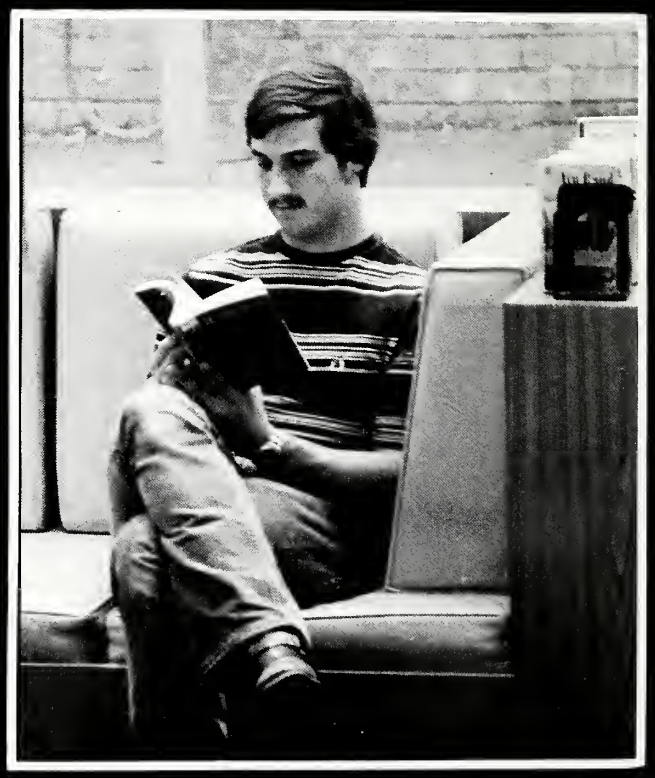
There are diversions,
attractions,
And an occasional painful
detour







Yet we remain on the same
road as travelers
Some heading to a destination
well marked
Others trusting to luck
That they'll know where they're going
When they arrive

Time passes and people
change
And the journey continues
Branching to infinity
While we have stopped for a moment
Together

SOUTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Georgetown, Texas

1977-78

Administration includes "freshmen"...

The ranks of newcomers to Southwestern in August weren't limited to freshman students.

After searches, interviews and meetings which filled the calendar last spring, three new people were chosen to fill vacancies in the university's administration.

From St. Agnes' Academy in Houston came Dr. Barbara Brightwell as our new Dean for Student Development. She replaced Dean Suzanne Gordon.

Taking Mr. Basil Phillips' place as Vice-President for Fiscal Affairs was Mr. Kirk Treible from West Virginia Wesleyan College.

Dr. Benjamin Oliver, from Hobart and William Smith Colleges in New York, took over Dr. F. Burr Clifford's responsibilities as Dean of the Brown College of Arts and Sciences.

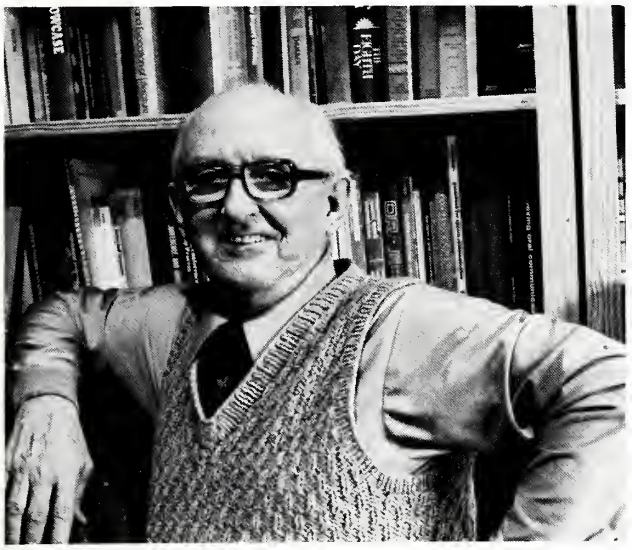
. . .as two SU veterans depart

Two men who have invested years of their lives at Southwestern decided to leave their posts this year.

Dr. B. F. Jackson, head librarian, officially retired on September 30, 1977, and continued to serve as a consultant to the library.

Jackson, who had been at Southwestern previously as a student and later as a teacher, was head librarian for two years.



Dr. Jackson said he views the library as "an education force in its own right apart from the curricular programs. . . the point at which new knowledge being created becomes available to the campus community. . . the repository of earlier achievement".

Dr. Angus Springer, chairman of the Department of Theatre/Speech, ended 35 years of teaching at Southwestern with his unique "Theatre of Celebration" course, which was taught in conjunction with several other professors.

Perhaps Springer's feelings about the theatre are best expressed in an essay which he wrote for the 1970 Sou'wester:

"The arts came into being when man discovered his need to express himself in ways which transcended his physical battle for survival. Fine Art became his humanizing leaven which, mixed with his struggle to acquire knowledge and skills in science and business and social development and the humanities, contributed greatly to his position as master of the animals.

"At no time in man's history are the arts more important than they are today in helping man to interpret his hopes and dreams, his aspirations and his desire for fulfillment. Drama, the art which embraces all other arts, describes and explains character behavior and conflict; it presents and interprets social and psychological problems; delves into man's strongest emotions and desires; creates beautiful and powerful language; it is always most concerned with man's inner nature."

to our campus and our vocabulary

Amid the traditional pomp and ceremony of Homecoming Weekend, October 14-16, was a note of special significance: the 77-year-old Administration Building was rededicated as the Cullen Building, in honor of the Cullen Foundation of Houston, donor of the funds which made possible the renovation and restoration of the campus' oldest structure.

Traditions warm Christmas season

Candlelight service in the Chapel... Sneed Open House... trimming the Union Christmas tree...The Messiah... Christmas caroling... professors waiting on students in the Commons...

The annual activities of the Christmas season provide a break from the tension of final exams and the anticipation of the coming vacation and add some warmth to those cold December days and nights.

Fall grads celebrate new beginning

Over sixty Southwestern students changed their identities to that of "Southwestern graduates" on December 18, 1977. The Commencement Address, "Ideas Have Legs", was presented by Dr. Angus Springer to the graduates, parents, families and friends assembled in the Chapel to share the occasion of ending one phase of life and embarking on another.

Winter really does come to central Texas

Jack Frost was slow in coming, but he finally arrived and left his mark all over the outdoors--icy cars that wouldn't start, bone-chilling wind... and the beauty of an almost dream-like ice world where a silent fountain twinkles and heavy-laden trees glisten in the winter moonlight.

Rush Rush Rush

The parties and the pressure, the rules and the uncertainties, the smiles and the doubts and the laughter and the tears--all are integral parts of the annual ritual of formal rush. So many names and faces and memories and, worst of all, decisions! Then comes the moment when the bids are released, and emotions take over again--for some, disappointment; but for many others, happiness and satisfaction in having forged a new bond of friendship and sharing.

Union programs show diversity

Spotlighting creativity and providing programming for the student body are the jobs of the seven committees of the Bishops Memorial Union, directed by Ms. Jaime Gray.

The Coffeehouse Committee sponsored the annual Jalapeno Eating/Root Beer Chugging Contest, entertainment by campus singers, a performance by the Not Quite Ready for a Small Religious School Players, and a Poetry Fest (opposite, upper left).

A selection of courses including backgammon, calligraphy and gourmet cooking was offered by the Free University Committee.

Poet Nikki Giovanni came to campus under the sponsorship of the Minorities Committee (opposite, upper right). The committee also held a Mexican Independence Day Dinner with a mariachi band and brought several films, including "Imitation of Life".

The Entertainment Committee also kept the film projectors running with such cinematic classics as "It Happened One Night", "The Magnificent Ambersons" and "Compulsion".

A kite and Frisbee tournament and a water works day were some of the activities sponsored by the Outdoor Recreation Committee.

Ideas and Issues Committee's programs included presentations concerning gay rights, South African politics and "The Forbidden Arts of Leningrad", described by a Russian dissident poet (opposite, lower right).

Spot Programs Committee provided a "Disco While You Eat" evening and cartoon festivals.

In addition to the individual committees' programs, the Union as a whole was responsible for Casino Night (opposite, lower left) on Parents' Weekend, and the Union Program Council arranged a Spring Fest featuring the music of Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown (below).

Stalking the wild derby

"Dear Mom: I just missed being Queen of the Mudpit..."

Mom might not understand, unless she's been around for KA Derby Day to watch sorority pledges chase greased pigs, pour syrup on one another's foreheads and, of course, comb the campus in the search for the elusive derbies.

Meetings fill busy schedules

Who plans the calendar for the year? Who deals with matters from drop dates to discipline cases? Who recommends, rearranges, resolves and repeals?

It's that omnipresent entity known as The Committee that settles such matters for us. The jumble of names and the alphabet soup of abbreviations represent the people who give their time and effort to make the decisions that keep the University running. Faculty, students and administrators take on the task of decision-making and planning for the community as a whole Sometimes the committees themselves are invisible--but things wouldn't get done without them.

(Below) Julie Crain, Mark McPhail, Linda Phillips, Karl Scholl and Dean Ben Oliver in a Community Life Council (CLC) meeting.

Only on Parents' Weekend:

Each spring, parents are invited to visit Southwestern as guests of honor on Parents' Weekend. At the Honors Assembly, they have the opportunity to see outstanding students recognized for their accomplishments. At an informal coffee with the faculty, parents are able to meet professors. And at Casino Night, Southwestern Simoleons are the medium of exchange as participants try their hands at games of chance.

Pomp, circumstance--

May 7 was the day when nearly 100 Southwestern students, the class of 1978, became alumni. Behind the ceremonial business of graduation were mingled feelings of pride, sadness, joy, anticipation of the future, and, for many, a feeling of relief at reaching the end of four years' work.

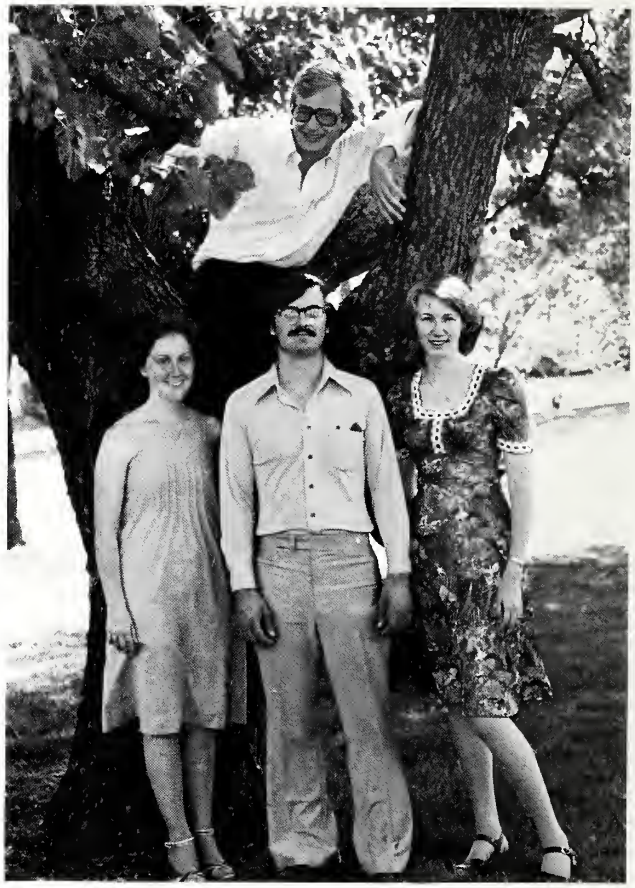
"Brown" funds enhance Southwestern

The Brown Foundation of Houston continued to contribute to the university this year, and a new program was added through Brown Foundation funds.

The Brown Scholars program was implemented as six students were designated as "Brown Scholars", to receive scholarships beginning next year.

The first recipients include Joe Cross, Maralee Buttery, Judy Anthony and Matthew Daude, as well as two freshmen planning to enter Southwestern in the fall of 1978.

The Brown Challenge in 1977 met and topped its goal for the second consecutive year in the twenty-year matching grant program. Students, faculty, alumni and friends of the university donated to the drive.



The first students selected as Brown Scholars include Judy Anthony, Matthew Daude, Maralee Buttery and Joe Cross.

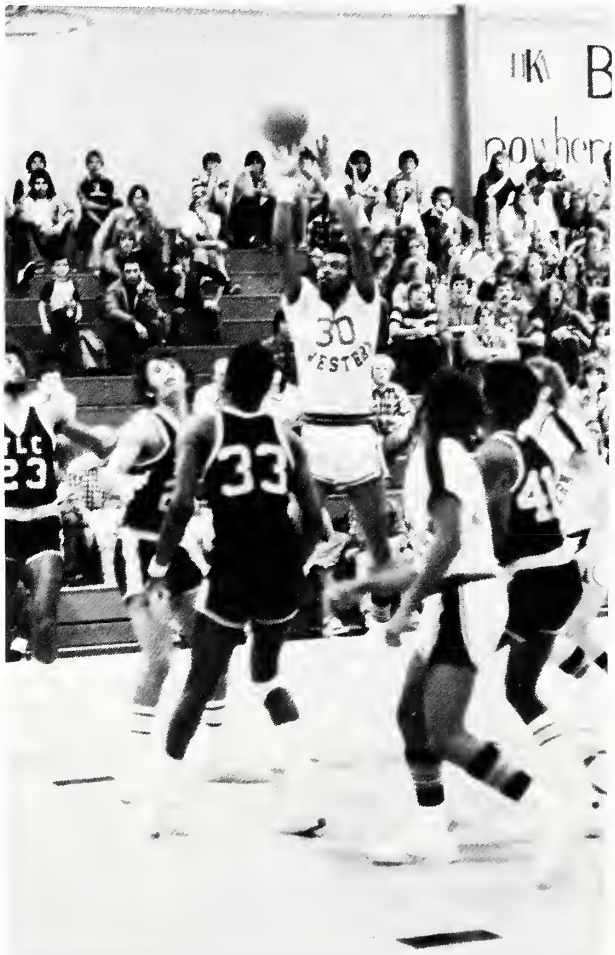
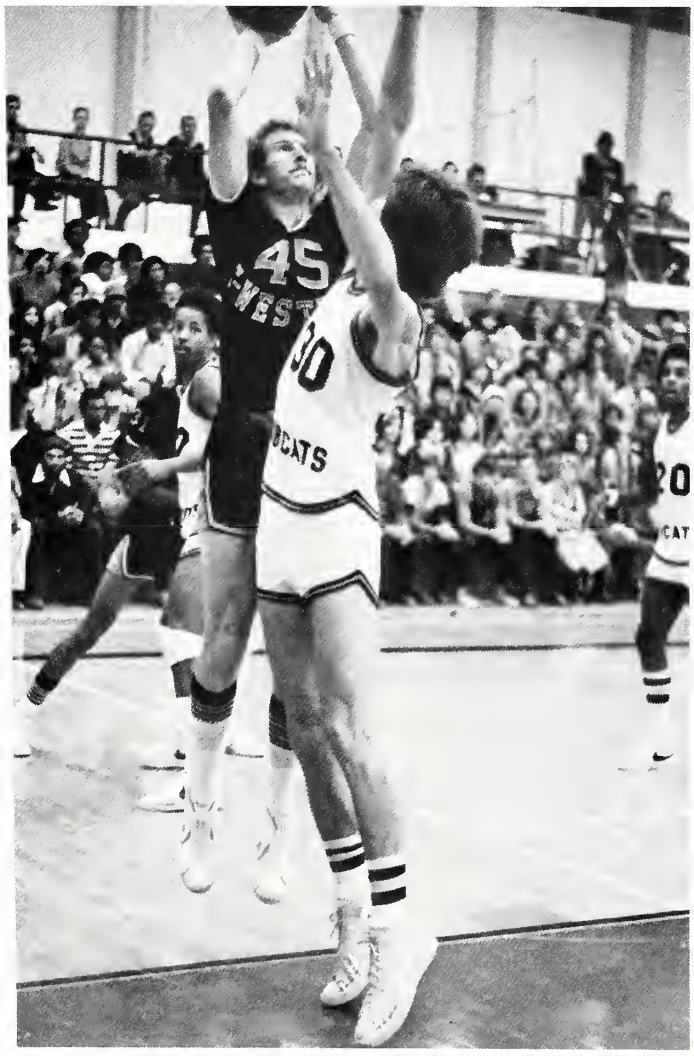
This year's basketball team was one of the best ever as they won fourteen of their first eighteen games, only to be stopped late in the season by determined teams from St. Mary's and East Texas Baptist. Highlights this year included a 77-68 win over St. Mary's at Richardson Gym and several games of over one hundred points, as well as the promise of an excellent team next year.



Southwestern's two big men proved to be prominent in the conference once again this year. Phillip Sewell was named All-Conference, while Carl Belcher was named All-Conference and All-District.



Coach Edwards leaves Southwestern

After coming to Southwestern in 1975, Coach John Edwards was responsible for bringing Southwestern basketball to a very respectable level in the Big State Conference. During the three years that Edwards was head coach of the Bucs, he had a record of 47/33, which indluded a victori over St. Mary's during his first year here when St. Mary's was ranked third in the nation. Edwards resigned in the spring of 1978 with the Bucs finishing third in the conference.

Cheerleaders

This year's cheerleaders were once again the Bucs' biggest supporters as they contributed their time, energy and enthusiasm in an effort to raise the spirit of the student body. In defeat as well as in victory, the cheerleaders played a key role in keeping the spirit of the fans high.

Chosen for the 1977-78 cheerleading squad were Holly Hardy, Sally Harris, Shelia Johnson, Elizabeth Knight, Christy McLeod, Amy Neves, Yvette Payne, Mona Sells, Sharon Tittle and Sally Victorin.

THE LAST WORD

Sine Qua Non Department:

Special thanks to Bretna Smith, who knows everything about everybody; to Kirk and Carol Treible; to Barbara Brightwell; to the University News Service, which has gotten more than one Sou'wester out from between a rock and a hard place; to Weldon Crowley, for encouragement and moral support; to Liane Abrams of Stevens Studios, who helped to make an odious job somewhat more bearable; and to John Schulze, for all the help, commiseration and good advice he provided.

This volume is dedicated to the past editors of the Sou'wester. Nobody knows the trouble they've seen.

If this book looks haphazard, it certainly ought to. But we did what we could with what we had, and better luck next year.

K. W.
